授業概要	You have been studying English for many years, so you already have a strong understanding of the language. However, learning a language is much more than studying grammar and vocabulary—it is about communicating, which is what we will work on in this course. This course will focus on building your speaking and listening skills, plus we will look at some of the culture behind the English language. Each week, we will focus on one topic, and you will talk with other students, ask questions, share ideas, and hold discussions. You will be expected to participate fully in English to get the most out of these classes. In addition, you will need to prepare for your next classes using the material the teacher gives you. Note: All classes will be taught in English.
